SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS,

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, 4TH AUGUST 1877.

THE Home telegrams of yesterday point to a quiet and generally unchanged state of affairs. Consols are quoted as having advanced to 95, while French Rentes are given as unchanged at 106.

Seeds in London show little change. The market for Bombay Rape and Linseed is reported steady at an advance of 6d. per cwt. for the former, and unaltered quotations for the latter description. Wheat is still, according to Reuter, unaltered, though as mentioned yesterday, private telegrams are said to indicate a downward tendency.

Cotton in Liverpool shows no further change in prices, the market is described as dull, and sales reported on Friday amount to 7,000 bales.

We give the usual weekly figures showing the statistical position of the staple.

The visible supply of Cotton for all Europe on the 2nd instant, compares as follows with the two previous years :—

The Manchester Piece Goods Market of yesterday is reported quiet, and prices show no change. The short time movement is said to be extending in Manchester.

Coffee in London was unchanged in price and, position. Ceylon Cocoanut Oil was quoted 5s. per ton higher ; Cochin, on the other hand shows a decline of 5s. per ton.

Enfaced Rupee Paper was without alteration, prices being still quoted at 83¾ for 4 and 4½, and 88¾ for 5½ per cents. Exchange on India for Bills at 60 days' sight is given at Is. 9⅛d. per rupee. Bar Silver is quoted at 54½d. per ounce.

In Sterling Exchange here to-day, but little has been doing, as is usual on Saturday, especially at this time of the year. Calcutta advices show an upward tendency there, and a partial advance of 1-16d. has taken place in our market. At the same time, as there continues to be almost no demand for Bank Bills, and next to nothing offering of Private Paper, rates may almost be termed nominal. The Banks are, as will be observed from our quotations, making a difference of ¼d. only instead of the usual 31-64 ; in their buying rates for 3 and 6 months' Bills, the alteration being fully accounted for by the low rates of Interest and Discount now ruling at Home, and apparently likely to continue to rule for some time, unless indeed some marked change were to take place in the political situation in Europe. We quote rates of Exchange on London :—

Bank Bills, on demand	ls. 8 13-16d.	per Rupee.
Do. 3 months' sight....	ls. 8 15-16d.	,,
Do. 6 ,, ,, ...	ls. 9¼d.	,,
Credits, 4 ,, ,, ...	ls. 9¼d.	,,
Do. 6 ,, ,, ...	ls. 9¼d.	,,
Documents, 3 ,, ,, ...	ls. 9 3-16d.	,,
Do. 6 ,, ,, ...	ls. 9 5-16d.	,,

On Calcutta business was reported yesterday at 2 annas per cent. premium for Bills on demand, and we give this as to-day's quotation, though no transactions have transpired. At 60 days' sight we have heard of sales at yesterday's quotation of 99⅝ per Rs. 100.

In Government Paper transactions continue on a very limited scale, but holders are firm, and quotations for 4 and 4½ per cents. show a slight, though perhaps nominal, advance. To-day's rates are Rs. 96½ to Rs. 96⅞ for 4, 96½ to 96⅞ for 4½, and Rs. 102¾ for 5½ per cents.

The Share Market continues quiet with but little alteration in quotations. There has been some demand for Bank of Bombay shares at 37 per cent. premium, an advance of ¼ per cent. In Land and Press Companies shares there is no change, while in Spinning and Weaving Companies we note a decline of Rs. 5 per share in Dhurrumsey and an advance of Rs. 10 in Bombay United and Flemings.

Cotton.—The market is quite unchanged, and no transactions have come to our knowledge for either export or local purposes. Prices are not such as to tempt buyers looking at rates ruling at Home. There is, we understand, some disposition to purchase forward, but the views of sellers and buyers differ materially as to the rates to be paid.

Seeds and Wheat are without quotable change and movement.

Freights are very dull, and the quantity of produce going forward so small that considerably less than our yesterday's quotations would probably be accepted for ready shipments. Rates are, however, nominally unchanged.

Piece-Goods.—The market continues quite stagnant, and dealers as yet show no sign of coming forward with any confidence as purchasers.

Coals.—We have no change to report.

[REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.]

INFLUENTIAL MEETING AT MADRAS TO RAISE FUNDS FOR THE FAMINE-STRICKEN.

MADRAS, Aug. 5.

An influential public meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Banqueting Hall, Madras, His Grace the Governor presiding, to adopt measures for aiding Government in affording relief to the sufferers by the famine. It was resolved that the increasing severity necessitates an appeal to public charity; and that with the view of obtaining aid, telegrams be immediately sent to the Lord Mayors of London, York, and Dublin, to the Mayors of the principal towns in Great Britain, the editors of the London and Indian papers, urging the necessity for speedy help, and soliciting assistance. That a central committee, with His Grace the Governor as president, undertake the management of the funds. The Governor, in an earnest speech, reviewed Doctor Cornish's efforts in very complimentary terms; the statistics read were appalling, one million and a half receiving relief, and over half a million of deaths having been reported between December and July.

We have reason to believe that the Indian executive of the G. I. P. Railway have telegraphed home for one hundred engines to meet the demands of their constantly increasing traffic. The statement in Saturday's Bombay Gazette that it takes a few weeks for the railway company to erect an engine after its arrival in Bombay is, we find, incorrect, as with present machinery and arrangements an engine can be put together in a few days.

OUR Poona correspondent, writing yesterday, says—"Prices are falling here steadily, and things are looking much better. There has been steady and forcing rain in and about Poona all this week, and to-day is quite showery."

THE Government of Madras having indented for more Engineers for their famine works, sixteen Civil Engineers, mostly surplus officers from irrigation projects arrested in Bengal and the North-West, are to be despatched immediately.

IT is becoming evident, says the Bangalore Spectator, that the distress is beginning to tell even on the middle and the wealthier classes of the population in Mysore. Respectable families in the Pettah are selling off their gold ornaments, sacrificing them in some instances at 25 per cent. less than their original value. We have heard of several cases in which women have sold their thalis—which, as most of our readers know, is the nuptial token with the Hindoos, as the wedding ring is with Europeans, and when a Bindoo wife offers her thali for sale, it may be taken for granted that her circumstances have become desperate in the extreme. We had begun to despair of our prospects, but in the afternoon of the 1st, the rain came down in a glorious torrent and poured for an hour, and it must evidently have fallen for miles around Bangalore.

AHMED KHOULUSSI EFFENDI, it seems, is the name of the Envoy from Constantinople to Cabul. The Sultan, it is said, intends to establish a permanent embassy in Afghanistan.

IT is said that the new treaty with Portugal has been satisfactorily concluded, and that the envoy, Senor Soares, leaves Simla at once for Europe.

MAHARAJA HOLKAR has appointed Assistant Surgeon Chuni Lal Das to be Superintendent of all the medical establishments in Indore.

AN unpleasant affair resulting in two British officers, Lieutenant Hayley, of the 11th Hussars, and Riding Master Elliott, of the 4th Hussars, being ordered out of Kashmir, is reported from Srinagar. It seems that at a State dinner recently given there by the Maharajah, the officers in question behaved somewhat boisterously, and were very demonstrative in their notice of the Maharajah's band. A senior officer, who was present in full uniform, Colonel Blyth, of the 40th, having remonstrated with the officers, and received a rough answer in reply, they were requested by Major Henderson, the Resident, to leave Kashmir territory within 38 hours—a request which was complied with. It is to be regretted that an occurrence, which appears to have arisen out of nothing more serious than a foolish freak on the part of the officers implicated, should not have ended there; but as Colonel Blyth declined to accept the apology tendered by Lieutenant Hayley the following morning, and has reported the matter to the Commander-in-Chief, we fear we have not heard the last of it.

MR. R. MORRIS' plan for recapping and reloading cartridges is to have a fair trial. Some 20,000 cartridges, 100,000 caps, and the requisite powder, &c., have been granted by the Government, and the trial will shortly be made at Lahore under the superintendence of a committee of six officers, with General Stewart as President. Mr. Morris has laboured at his idea for the last three years. His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief is said to take the very greatest interest in the coming experiments. Mr. Morris is at present Superintendent of the S. P. and D. Railway Oil Mills.

THE rumour that the Saraogi procession at Umballa had been attended with disturbance and bloodshed, was quite unfounded. Everything passed off quietly, the Vishnus and their religious opponents dining together afterwards.

THERE is no virtue like that of caution in a Judge; at all events this seems to be the opinion of Mr. Justice Atkinson, who delivered judgment on Saturday last in a suit which has given a great deal of trouble to the parties interested. His Lordship gave his decision, but apologised for not giving his reasons, "Not," said he, "that I am ashamed of my reasons or that I fear the closest criticism." His reasons, however, for not giving his reasons were these: "bad reasons may be and are not infrequently given for good conclusions, and, moreover, that the best of reasons may be cavilled at by the disappointed." People generally judge good conclusions by the reasons given for them; but apparently Judge Atkinson has a vivid remembrance of the story which is told of a celebrated English Judge's criticism of another Judge, that his conclusions were generally admirable, but his reasons were generally "die——," or "words to that effect."

THE elderly gallant of Calcutta who failed to kiss a certain young and handsome Jewess in the synagogue has not yet heard the last of it. It is said that Leah means to bring an action for damages against him in the High Court; damages Rs. 20,000—a very long price, surely, for a kiss that after all was distressingly incomplete.

THE daring burglar, who has been frightening all in Simla by his outrageous tricks, has at length got his deserts. He has been sentenced to sixty lashes and five years' imprisonment. He was brought up on five charges. He was asked if he had any accomplices, but he would not give up any, though it was evident that he had others to help him; all that could be got out of him was, that these accomplices had got safe away.

THE Hon'ble Mr. Justice Markby has sent in his papers for permission to retire from the 15th instant, but there is some objection on the part of the Government of India to his being allowed to retire at present. It appears that a Judge of the High Court must serve twelve years before becoming entitled to pension, of which eleven years and six months must be on duty in India. But during his term of office Mr. Markby has been absent on furlough, and the contention is that the term during which he was so absent does not count towards pension.

MR. THOMAS LETT WOOD, the Chief Justice of Bermuda, has been appointed to the Second Puisne Judgeship of the Straits Settlements.

COLONEL MACMAHON, Commissioner of Hissar, broke his right arm, we regret to hear, by a fall at the Simla rink on Thursday last.

CAPTAIN SATTERTHWAITE, R. E., who accompanied Sir William Jervois as Private Secretary on his mission to Australia, has returned to Singapore, and will be appointed Colonial Engineer and Surveyor General Straits Settlements in place of Major McNair, absent on leave in Europe.

THE Yakoob Khan whose death was telegraphed by Reuter a few days ago is, says the Pioneer, the Ameer of Kashgar. The news came from St. Petersburg, and although unconfirmed by any independent information which has reached India, may nevertheless be true. The Ameer at the time of his rumoured decease was on the extreme eastern boundary of his dominions, or about a thousand miles from Kashgar, a point from which news might reach St. Petersburg in three weeks, and India perhaps in two months: indeed the latest dates in this country from Yarkund via Leh are the 15th of June.

THE Indian Tribune has got hold of a Fuller case, which is, it says, "of a very atrocious nature," but yet it is doubtful of its information, for "goes on cautiously to say, "We give it as we find it, and we are open to correction. A few days ago, a poor mango-seller came to the bungalow of the District Magistrate of Etawah to sell mangoes. The saheb came out of his room and asked the man prices, which were perhaps in his opinion exorbitant. The man persisting not to lower them, the saheb got enraged. He then ordered his khansamah to beat him, and that obsequious servant belaboured the mango-seller with such good blows, in right Anglo-Indian fashion, as perhaps pleased his master. The poor man, however, unable to bear this hard treatment, fell down and died. The khansamah was indicted before a Magistrate and was convicted to pay a fine of Rs. 5, and to undergo simple imprisonment for a week. We call the attention of the Government to this scandalous case and solicit investigation."

A MEASURE, the policy of which we (Pioneer) have more than once urged upon Government of late, the establishment of a Political Agent at Gilgit and the countries bordering on Cashmere—is, we are glad to hear, about to be carried out. Captain John Biddulph, of the 19th Hussars, the officer selected for the post, is expected in India immediately, and will proceed to Simla for orders before joining his appointment. Captain Biddulph will find himself in familiar pastures. It is pretty generally known, we take it, that the Chief of Cashmere has himself been the chief advocate of the arrangement.

THE Statesman:—We have called attention to the fact, that although there are nearly 200 Surgeon-Majors in Bengal qualified for the appointment of Secretary to the Surgeon-General, it is deliberately proposed to bring a Mr. Marston out from home to fill the appointment upon the retirement of Surgeon-Major Ogilvy in October next. Such an appointment will be directly in the teeth of the Regulations published by authority only in February last; and we ask Lord Lytton whether this job is really to be perpetrated. How is it possible that there should be any loyal service in the country, in the face of such conduct? Mr. Marston has never been in India at all, and his appointment will violate the Regulations, let what dodge may be resorted to, to qualify him. Of his professional abilities, and other qualifications, we know and need to know nothing. It is enough that he must necessarily be ignorant of the languages of the country, and can have none of that acquaintance with our medical officers, their qualifications and habits, essential to the efficient performance of the duties of Secretary. Three or four years ago the Government formally and vehemently repudiated the charge of jobbery brought against it in the House of Commons; and here is Mr. Marston to the front, in proof of our innocence of all such arrangements.

THE Pioneer:—Mr. B. B. Shaw most likely returns to India big with the fate of Yakoob Beg and Kashgar. A great deal depends on the contents of his despatch-box. Of course the authorities at home and the Foreign Office out here dissemble any interest they may take in the struggle between Yakoob and his Chinese foe; but they can hardly look on a political crisis in Central Asia without either emotion or curiosity. We have already alluded to negociations for peace in London; and we can quite believe that Mr. Shaw is charged with the wishes and instructions of the Home Government. At any rate, it is unlikely that an English Political Agent would be sent to a country shortly to become, should we refuse to interfere, the scene of massacre and confusion. But there may yet be time for the exertion of our influence beyond the northern passes. We have seldom before had a duty to perform in Central Asia; and still more seldom has a duty seemed so easy and profitable. At least it seemed easy two or three months ago; and the return of Mr. Shaw leads us to believe that difficulties have not multiplied so quickly as to be insurmountable.

BY the recent death of the late Count Michael de Souza, a well-known pleader of the Calcutta Small Cause Court, who married his only daughter, has inherited the bulk of his property, amounting, it is said, to rupees thirty-eight lakhs. After bequeathing large legacies to several churches and charitable institutions, the deceased Count left the largest legacy to his daughter, his only surviving child, who is also renowned in the Roman Catholic community for her unostentatious works of piety and charity.

AN extraordinary entertainment has been given by the Odeypore chief to a large assembly. The place chosen was at the tomb of Kazi Gureeb Namaz, a Mahomedan saint, who is believed to have died 700 years ago. Vows are made at the tomb of this man, and the dinner was given in fulfilment of a solemn promise made by a wealthy dyer. This man's earnest wish was to be blessed with a son, which the prophet or saint Kazi Gureeb Ramaz is said to have granted; whereupon the happy father invested Rs. 900 in sugar, ghee, rice, and fruits, which being mixed together in an immense caldron holding also from 50 to 60 maunds of grain was set on the fire to boil. When this savoury mess was ready to serve, the servants of the Durga, having wrapped themselves in rags and blankets, plunged by turns into the caldron and out again, while the mendicants and others scrambled to collect the drippings and rice, which they ate or carried home as consecrated food, either to sell to their friends or wear round their necks in small bags as a charm against the machinations of the evil one.

THE Englishman:—A rather painful discussion has lately taken place with regard to the minimum amount of food required to support life among an Indian population. The immediate question at issue had reference to the famine-stricken districts of Madras and Bombay; but the subject has, unfortunately, a much wider and a more permanent interest. If population increases at the rate at which it has done during past years, we shall have to put the question not with reference to particular localities, or times of special distress, but with regard to a very large proportion of the Indian people. The truth is, that India is fast sinking into the condition of England before the Reform Bill. In the years preceding the Reform Bill. We do not desire to press the comparison too closely. It suffices that in both countries the population at the periods referred to was pressing with a cruel severity upon the productive powers of the soil. It may be that, as a great change has passed over the English nation during the half-century since 1832, so also a new spirit of enterprise, emigration, and mobilised industry may be breathed into the Indian people during the next fifty years. All we can do is to hope for the best, to help to keep the people alive in their sore time of need at present, and to welcome and foster any symptom of their awakening to industrial activity, or to a new and keener national life. Government cannot do much in the matter. When it has removed every obstacle to enterprise, thrown open the ports of the country, and removed the old internal barriers and restrictions which lay so heavy upon trade, its task is done. It can only stand aside and wait for the event.

WE are glad to see it stated on the best authority that the India Office entirely misunderstood the late Mr. Bagehot in supposing he recommended the Secretary of State to borrow money for speculating in exchange with. The Economist says:—"On the motion for the second reading of this Bill, which was brought forward in the House of Commons on Thursday last, Mr. Fawcett is reported in the Times to have thus spoken of the proposal to raise 2,500,000*l.* in Treasury bills, for the purpose of steadying the silver market:—

> Confining his attention for the moment to the power given by the Bill to raise two millions and a-half of money simply for the purpose of giving the Government the command of a balance which would enable them at particular periods to go into the market or not as they thought fit, he wished to observe that that was a proposal which had been recommended to the House on the high authority of Mr. Bagehot. Now he had read every word, he believed, which had been written by Mr. Bagehot, and having had the privilege of enjoying his most intimate friendship, had discussed over and over again with him the subject of Indian finance, and he ventured to say that if his words were searched from beginning to end not a single argument would be found in them to support the proposal now before the House. For years Mr. Bagehot had been the distinguished Editor and chief contributor to one of the leading financial journals, not only in this country but in Europe, and immediately after the Under-Secretary for India had stated that he based his proposal on his authority, the Economist said there was a most material difference between that proposal and what Mr. Bagehot had always recommended. Mr. Bagehot's advice was that if it was necessary for the Indian Government again to come to England to borrow, they should not add to the permanent debt of India, but should obtain the money they required by the issue of a certain amount of bills or temporary securities, and then if they found that the price of silver was likely to settle down these temporary securities could be withdrawn. Now that was a recommendation totally distinct from that proposed in the present Bill. The Government wanted to raise, in order to meet a deficit, two and a-half millions in this country, and flying straight in the face of Mr. Bagehot's advice they were about to add that amount to the permanent debt of India. They then hit on the novel experiment of issuing a certain amount of bills whereby they could enter the money market as speculators in silver; but he had been assured only the day before by a mercantile man of experience and eminence that that was a course of proceeding which involved very serious considerations, and to the full importance of which those engaged in business in connection with the East were notifully alive. It was said, however, that it was necessary the Government should have the power of which he was speaking to protect themselves against combinations of those who intended to purchase their council bonds, and who by forming a ring might compel them to sell at less than the market value. That fear of combinations, however, was he was assured by some leading bankers and merchants, an entire delusion; but, of course, if it could be shown that the Government would have to contend against a ring of that kind, it might be necessary to arm them with power to resist it.

> "Mr. Fawcett, we think, has correctly stated the views of Mr. Bagehot; and while circumstances may no doubt arise in which it would be beneficial to delay the drawings upon India, it would, we believe, increase, and not diminish, the fluctuations in silver, if to the other causes affecting its value were added an uncertainty as to when or how the Government balances were to be brought home."

WE (Englishman) have to acknowledge the receipt of Part IX. of Dr. Fallon's Hindustani-English Dictionary, and congratulate the Doctor on the progress he is making with his important work. Quite enough has now been published to enable the public to judge of the real value of the work, and it is to be hoped that the different Governments and the public will be more liberal in their support of what should be a national undertaking.

IT appears that the American dollar is not the only one which has been fraudulently imitated. A specimen of the Hongkong dollar of 1867, which has been passed through an eliminating process of such a nature as to reduce its value to a minimum, is being circulated in Singapore. It has been split and the silver in the centre extracted, and the dodge has been so cleverly done as to defy detection except by ringing the coin.

A LAMENTABLE accident occurred at the P. & O. Wharf, Singapore, on the 12th ult. George Silver, second engineer of the Teheran, fell into the water while walking along thewharf, and though he was soon taken out perfectly sensible, and apparently not seriously injured, he died in about two hours afterwards from syncope.

A LONDON correspondent writes, "The Orleans and Hurlingham Clubs are still much exercised by the efforts of divorced women, who have married the co-respondents of course, to obtain admission to those institutions. The late wife of a racing peer, divorced last year, and married to a wealthy commoner (the co-respondent), has been refused among others, and great sympathy is manifested for her in certain circles of society. These divorced women are becoming a general nuisance; and, if they happen to be the daughters of peers, assume a species of right to do as they please. Whether they will succeed in getting into and ruining the Orleans and Hurlingham, remains to be seen. It would be easy to keep them out by passing a rule admitting no lady who is not received at Court. The Orleans qualification "in general society" is all nonsense, mere sound and fury, signifying nothing."

A NEW society, the members of which call themselves Danielites, has sprung up in London. They pledge themselves to 'abstain from flesh, fish, fowl, alcohol, and tobacco.' A 'Garden of Eden' meets weekly, where a vegetarian banquet was recently held, to which about seventy persons sat down. One novelty at the last was custard made without any animal produce—no milk, no eggs, no pastry—compounded of flour, wheat meal, and fine nut-oil. In Paris something far more sensible is being set on foot for the benefit of those persons who cannot live like the world in general, but must adopt a peculiar diet. I refer to a new establishment called the 'Restaurant de Sante.' It is fitted up in the most luxurious manner and in the best possible taste. When you enter, a medical man is introduced to you by the proprietor; your pulse is felt, your tongue examined, and you cerquestioned as to the present state of your health, and symptoms, should you be troubled with any. After this you are conducted to your place, and tempting dishes are set before you, exactly in accordance with the doctor's prescription. We must give the proprietor credit for an unusual amount of originality in such speculation.

A MERCHANT in Boston, Massachusetts, has connected his office with his residence by a telephonic wire three miles in length. It is stated that conversation can be carried on by it nearly as well as if those conversing were in the same room.

SHIPS' BROKERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Referring to a letter in the Bombay Gazette of the 26th ultimo signed "Facts and Figures," I have gone over the charters of sailing vessels for the first half of this year (1st January to 31st July inclusive) and find that the tonnage stands about as follows: 29,543 tons to Captains; 12,642 Finlay, Muir and Co.; 9,563 Farnham and Co.; 7,997 Killick, Nixon and Co.; 4,093 Volkart Brothers, 3,859 W. and A. Graham and Co., 3 844 Ritchie, Steuart and Co., 3,460 W. Nicol and Co. 2,542 M. Nowrowjee, 2,511 Jamsetjee Merwanjee and Co., 2,483 Ed. Bates and Co., 2,069 Lyon and Co., 2,029 Owen and Okell, 1,936 Ewart, Latham and Co., 1,817 James Mackintosh and Co., 1,823 Finlay, Scott and Co., 1,720 Sir Charles Forbes and Co., 1,485 Gledstone, Wyllie and Co., 1,470 J. Soares and Co., 1,376 Fally and Co., 1,343 N. Manockjee and Co., 422 MacOnlloch, Beyts and Co. From the foregoing it appears that a very large amount of tonnage has been pirated, to use a word "A. B. C." uses in your contemporary this morning, from the agency houses during the first half of this year. The total amount of tonnage in the hands of all parties is 99,747, out of which 29,543 put down to captains was, no doubt, worked by ship brokers, besides which 1,817 tons is put down to James Mackintosh and Co. and 422 tons to MacCulloch, Beyts and Co. In all 31,986 tons was worked direct by ship brokers during the first half of this year, whilst during the whole of last year if "Facts and Figures" is correct, but 11,657 tons were worked direct by ship-brokers out of 125,098 tons. Perhaps the pirating of steam tonnage has not been so large, yet I fancy it is a serious matter. In Rule I.—"Rules and Regulations, Bombay Chamber of Commerce —" one of the objects and duties of the Chamber is "to obtain the removal, as far as such a society can, of all acknowledged grievances affecting merchants as a body or mercantile interests in general." The pirating of ships' agency business by ship brokers in Bombay certainly "affects merchants as a body," and the shipping interest in general, if not the "mercantile interests in general."

As the subject may come up at the next Chamber meeting, I need not trespass further upon your valuable space.

MR. HOUSTON'S LECTURE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I asked Mr. Houston for four consecutive lines from Pope, and these he has not given. The first two lines he gives require the couplet preceding them, thus:—

> "Say, will the Falcon, stooping from above,
> Smit with her varying plumage, spare the dove?
> Admires the jay the insects gilded wings?
> Or hears the hawk when Philomel sings?"

Mr. Houston's second quotation is—

> "Honour and shame from no condition rise;
> Act well your part: there all the honour lies."

The quotation from Mr. Morell applies to regularity of metre-monotony if you will, but it does not define "sing-song," which implies a monotonous and unbroken repetition of feet, and emphasis. The words italicised in the above quotations show the correct emphasis, and I deny that thus read they are "sing-song."

Does Mr. Houston consider that the cæsura should be distinctly marked in reading? If so, I presume he would invariably mark the last syllable of every line by a similar pause?

> "Marsh, 'ask yonder knight in arms,—
> Both who he is,—and why he cometh hither—
> Thus elated in—habiliments of war;—
> And formally,—according to our law,—
> Depose him in—the justice of his cause."

This is "sing-song" if read by the rules alluded to, but the sing-song quickly disappears when the lines are correctly read. My authorities for disregarding these pauses in reading are Lord Macaulay, the younger Kean, Barry Sullivan, Henry Irvine, Mrs. Scott Siddons, Bellew, Prof. Bell, the late Charles Dickens, and others; as well as the ordinary practice of the English legitimate theatres. Either of the following quotations, if read as they commonly are in our public schools, are "sing-song" in an extreme degree; but they are stirring, fiery lines when correctly read:—

> "Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
> 'Life is but an empty dream!'
> For the soul is dead that slumbers,
> And things are not what they seem;"
>
> "Round turned he, as not deigning
> Those craven ranks to see;
> Nought spake he to Lars Porsena,
> To Sextus nought spake he."

In conclusion, I trust that Mr. Houston will now understand what I mean by saying that the adjective "sing-song" is not applicable to Pope.

INDIAN NEWS-LETTERS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

AHMEDABAD, Aug. 1.

YESTERDAY evening Mr. Borrodaile, the Collector, opened to the public the garden opposite the Karung before a small, yet well-known circle of gentlemen. Owing to the limited space in the garden a small number of invitations were issued, most of which were to gentlemen connected with the Municipality. However, that square witnessed a most lively sight, for since the morning the rumour regarding the opening of the garden was afloat, and long before the appointed hour people of all caste and creed were seen wending their way towards the place where the attraction of the evening lay. After the gentlemen had taken their seats, a Hindu municipal member in a short speech thanked the Collector for the interest he had taken and the zeal he had shown in laying out a garden for the convenience of the public. Mr. Borrodaile then rose, thanked the gentlemen present and said that all the credit was due to the Municipality who were always ready with their purse and their Secretary in carrying out the plan which he had at first suggested. The Collector then declared the garden open, while H. M.'s native band—which was discoursing sweet music all the time—struck up "God save the Empress." The crowd then began to disperse and a little after seven all again became quiet and black night resumed her solitary away.

We are most badly off for rain. No longer are the scorching rays of the sun cooled by the genial showers. To the terror of the people the sky darkens, it is only by way of deluding weak poor mortals and dashing their hopes to the ground. Unluckily the cry for rain is heard all over Gujarat and oh, how refreshing would be the downpour!

SAMBALPUR, JULY 28.

ANOTHER sensational case has occurred in this district. Sada Siva Babidar, the Police Inspector of the Bargarh Tehsil, is imprisoned for two years with a fine of Rs. 150. As he is a respectable man of this town, and is said to be of amiable disposition and affable manners, he has enlisted the sympathy of not only his friends, but others who know him. He was a very clever detective officer. He was placed at the Bargarh station purposely to bring the notorious budmashes into the meshes of justice, and was the right man in the right place. He was an experienced officer, and had almost neared the period of retiring. In the meantime he threw himself into the same meshes into which he laboured hard to bring a good number of pickpockets and cutthroats. These are the circumstances of his case:—Bargarh Sambar, a zemindari state, is a wild place. It is peopled by Banegars, a gypsy-like tribe, and some of the aboriginal tribes, such as Gond, Khoad, Kole, &c. This Bargarh Sambar is a den of bad characters, thieves, pilferers, &c. Some time ago a theft was committed here, and the assistance of the Bargarh Police was called in. One head constable and some constables were sent to ferret out the thieves. Several persons were detected, and they were maltreated to extort confession from them. They were challenged, convicted, and imprisoned. One day it turned out that the jailor saw these people hurt, enquired into the reason of it, and reported it to the District Superintendent of Police. The Superintendent on enquiry found that the thieves were hurt by the Bargarh Police, and suspended the Inspector. The case was tried by the Deputy Commissioner, who found the Inspector guilty of three things:—First, he did not report that his head constable and constables had maltreated the prisoners. Second, he unlawfully kept them in custody for three days. Third, he ordered his men to beat the thieves. He is now imprisoned for two years with a fine of Rs. 150. Thus stern justice did not let the man, who has been so serviceable to him to bring many into his grasp, go from his grip.

A "TRUE" STORY.

For some time past, very strange and evil rumours have been afloat in Bombay regarding the well-known Mother St. Catherine, late of Poona, which have at last found their way into print—but a long way off, the Bombay correspondent of the Madras Times assuming the responsibility of disseminating publicly what turns out to be wicked gossip and foul scandal. HIGH COURT.—4TH AUGUST.

(Before the Hon'ble Mr. JUSTICE ATKINSON.)

W. NASSAU LEES vs. MATHIAS MULL AND W. M. WOOD.

His Lordship delivered the following judgment:—

This is a matter of disputed account between Colonel Nassau Lees, Mr. Mull, and Mr. Martin Wood, the proprietors of the Times of India. The case came before me for final hearing at the end of last week, when it was agreed by all parties that it should be referred to the Commissioner for taking accounts. It was further agreed that the principle by which he was to be guided and governed in taking the account was that which is defined by Mr. Marriott in his opinion, dated the 24th January 1876, a copy of which is annexed to the plaint and forms part of exhibit F.,—such principle as there defined being read and taken together with the decision of this Court on the two following issues, namely:—1. Whether Colonel Lees is liable to be debited in the account which it is agreed to be taken, with any sum in respect of the purchase money agreed to be paid by the late Mr. Shepherd in respect of his share in the Times of India concern, or with any sum on account of Mr. Shepherd's share (if any) in the liabilities of the Times of India concern prior to the 1st January 1870? 2. Whether under the agreement of the 23rd April 1870, between the first and second defendants and the late Mr. Shepherd, the second defendant is liable to the first defendant in any other sum than the sum of Rs. 31,250 there mentioned in respect of the liabilities of the Times of India concern before the 1st January 1870 or otherwise? It appeared to me at the time these issues were raised that my determination of them was ultra vires; but as all the parties were agreed to the raising of them, and to my cognisance of them as forming parts of the case; and as they seemed to me, also, indispensably necessary for a satisfactory settlement of this unfortunate quarrel, I consented to do so; and in furtherance of the power so vested in me, I determine the two issues as follows:—1st. That Colonel Lees is not liable to be debited in the account which it is agreed to be taken with any sum in respect of the purchase money agreed to be paid by the late Mr. Shepherd in respect of his share in the Times of India concern, or with any sum on account of Mr. Shepherd's share in the liabilities of the Times of India concern prior to the 1st January 1870. 2ndly. That under the agreement of the 23rd April 1870, between the first and second defendants and the late Mr. Shepherd, the second defendant is not liable to the first defendant in any other sum than the sum of Rs. 31,250 there mentioned in respect of the liabilities of the Times of India concern before the 1st January 1870 or otherwise. By section 185 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act 8 of 1859) it was provided that every judgment should contain (amongst other things) "the reasons for the decision," but this section, so far as a judgment of the High Court is concerned, is repealed. I am glad for many reasons that it is so; and especially on the present occasion, because it enables me to adopt the form of a certificate of an elaborate judgment in which the reasons are usually assigned for the conclusion arrived at. It is not that I am ashamed of my reasons or that I fear the closest criticism; but, as we all know, that bad reasons may be, and are, not unfrequently given for good conclusions; and, moreover, that the best of reasons may be cavilled at by the disappointed, I adopt most advisedly this general form of communicating the result of my reflections on all the facts and circumstances of the case. The Court therefore doth order and decree as follows:—1st, That it be referred to the Commissioner of this Court to take an account of the partnership dealings and transactions between the respective parties hereto. Such account to be taken by him according to the principle laid down in the opinion of Mr Marriott, dated the 24th January 1876, read and taken together with the Court's decision on the above issues, 2ndly. And this Court doth reserve the consideration of all further directions and of the costs of this suit until after the said Commissioner shall have made his report,—with liberty to apply.

On the 5th, 6th, and 7th of July, the Gentlemen met the Players at Prince's ground, London, and a match was played in which there was some tall scoring on both sides, the Gentlemen running up 400 in their first innings, and the Players attaining the considerable total of 234, at their second attempt. The chief individual scores were 134 by Mr. G. F. Grace for the Gentlemen, and 53 and 118 by Uiyett for the players. The following is the score:—

Registered Office of the Company:—
No. 7, APOLLO STREET, BOMBAY.

THE object for which the Company is formed is to work a concession recently granted by the Government of Bombay, comprising the sole right of utilising the water-power of the River Tapti near Bhonsawul in Khandesh, and the lease of three hundred and forty-four acres of land in connection therewith, for a term of ninety-nine years, renewable for a further like term subject to certain conditions.

The power available is supplied by two falls of the River Tapti, and aggregates over a thousand horse-power. The land comprises extensive sites for building and other purposes adjoining each fall; a strip of land uniting the two falls, and two other strips of land uniting each fall respectively with the G. I. P. Railway.

The prominent feature of the scheme is the employment of water as a motor instead of steam. Water-mills of size or importance are as yet unknown in India, although largely used and well known in Europe and the United States of America. In the latter country some hundreds of water mills are employed in cotton-spinning while for other purposes more than seven thousand mills moved by water are employed. In India, in consequence of the high price of fuel and of skilled labour, this power possesses peculiar advantages. Perfect control over the water will be secured by the employment of the most recent improvements in turbines, so that the risks to which ordinary water-wheels are exposed in cases of floods will be avoided.

The locality of the concession is in the centre of the district producing the Hingunghat variety of cotton, and close to a junction of a trunk line of Railway. The best cotton in Western India will thus be available for manufacturing purposes, uninjured by pressure into bales, and unshackled by all expenses connected with the baling process, and the cost of railway carriage for two hundred and seventy-six miles to Bombay. The mills will be two hundred and seventy-six miles nearer the natural market for their productions in the Central and North-West Provinces than those in Bombay are, and the produce will be available on the spot.

It is proposed, in the first place, to commence operations with the upper of the two falls, keeping the lower one in reserve for future extensions of the Company's operations.

The saving in the items of fuel, Life Agents' Commission, and Railway Carriage, is estimated to amount to more than ten per cent. per annum on the total capital of the Company.

The amount of each share and call has been fixed low enough to meet the requirements of that large class of persons in receipt of monthly salaries who are desirous of seeking a sound investment for their savings, and to whose notice this scheme is specially recommended.

The Memorandum and Articles of Association may be inspected at the office of the Company, No. 7, Apollo Street, Fort, Bombay, where also Forms of application for Shares and any other information may be obtained from the Secretary to the Company.

The scheme has been submitted to the examination of J. R. Manning, Esq., Mem. Inst. C.E., late Chief Engineer of the G. I. P. Railway, and Thos. Ormiston, Esq., Mem. Inst. C.E., late Chief Engineer to the Bombay Port Trust, both of whom visited the site and reported favourably thereon. Copies of their reports may be seen at the office of the Company.
